'Patriots in the Park' offers many activities

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Area residents will have lots of fun activities to choose from this week as the Granite City Park District presents "Patriots in the Park," its Independence Day celebration to be held Wednesday through Sunday in Wilson Park. Pony rides and a petting zoo for the kids, softball and mud volleyball tournaments, a craft show, a car show, a firemen's rodeo, live entertainment and a carnival are among the activities planned. The event will be capped off by the largest fireworks display in the city's history.

The carnival — always a popular event — will be held Wednesday through Sunday. Wholesome games and a variety of rides will be offered. Special attractions include matinees (with reduced prices) from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Police step up traffic efforts

Sign allows motorists to see speed

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Motorists on Madison Avenue were surprised Friday to find a large sign in front of the police station displaying their speed.

"This is an informational program to let the public know their speed and the speed limit," Granite City Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said. "I think many times people don't realize how fast they're going."

The sign, similar to the displays that can be seen near construction sites on interstate highways, is being borrowed from the Illinois State Police. It contains a radar gun and includes a large display showing the actual speed of motorists as the pass the station. It also provides police with a computer printout of the number of cars that passed and their speeds.

The "Smart Trailer" is being used in conjunction with an increased focus on traffic enforcement by the department, Ruebhausen said.

"We've started to increase our traffic enforcement with a special detail," he said.

Over the last two weeks, officers have set up radar units on Johnson Road, Madison Avenue, Edwardsville Road, Maryville Road, Pontoon Road, West 20th Street and State Street, he said. The

Increased attention has resulted in 158 citations issued in the two-week period, Ruebhausen said. That number includes mostly speeding, driving without insurance and seat belt violations.

It does not include warnings issued or arrests on warrants that resulted from traffic stops.

The "Smart Trailer" will be moved to various locations while it is on loan to the department, Ruebhausen said.

Clean Air Hotline in operation

By Kimberly Haas

The American Lung Association hopes the Clean Air Hotline will help residents and the ozone, especially during the hot summer months.

"The idea of the hotline is twofold. One is that the ozone is a powerful lung irritant and we want everyone to take precautions," said Mark Bishop, program director of Environmental Lung Health for the American Lung Association of eastern Missouri (ALHEM). "And we

Mitchell petitions are filed

A group's effort to incorporate the Mitchell area as a village has moved into the courts.

Petitions filed in Madison County Circuit Court this week contain nearly 900 signatures in support of an election on incorporation in November. Only 250 valid signatures are required.

A judge will consider the petitions in a hearing scheduled at 1 p.m. July 8 in the Madison County Courthouse.

Eddie Lee, chief of the volunteer fire department in Mitchell and a leader in the incorporation effort, said he is confident that most area residents support incorporation.

"The response has been tremendous from everyone," he said.

Lee and other Mitchell residents were motivated in part by plans for development of a

A day at the races

Gateway finals slated for today

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Two 5,000-horsepower cars spitting fire hurtle side-by-side down the quarter-mile track as the thunder of top fuel, funny car or pro stock cars deafens the enthusiastic crowd of more than 20,000 fans.

That is the prevailing image of the $1.47 million National Hot Rod Association Inaugural Sears Craftsman Nationals at Gateway International Raceway in Madison.

But there is much more for the casual observer as well as the drag racing aficionado to enjoy at the race track. The finals of this, the 11th of 22 events in the Winston Drag Racing series, are slated to begin at 11 a.m. today, Sunday. Gates open at 7 a.m., with sportsman eliminations being run at 9 a.m. prior to the opening ceremonies. A one-hour tape delay broadcast of highlights of the event will be shown on ABC-TV (Channel 30 in St. Louis) at 4 p.m. July 6.

The stories: There are plenty of plots to follow in this event. For example, the rivalry between Kenny Bernstein, last year's Winston points series champion in top fuel, and Larry Dixon, who has yet to claim a victory this season.

Bernstein drives for Bud King racing and Dixon for Miller Racing, setting up a natural rivalry between the country's two major beverage brewers.

Or there is the story of rookie Gary Scelzi, whose Team Winston car is prepared by Alan Johnson — brother of Blaine Johnson who was the Winston points leader until his death last Labor Day at the U.S. Nationals.

Scelzi has claimed victory in four of the 10 previous top fuel events this year and qualified for the semifinals in each of the other six.

"Nothing makes a racer more excited than knowing the fans are as excited as he is," Scelzi said of the Inaugural Sears Craftsman Nationals event. "With a new facility, new fans and a new city for NHRA Winston Drag Racing, I can't wait to get to St. Louis."

Or there is the story of Cristen Powell who eclipsed 300 miles per hour before her 18th birthday.

Even the casual observer is awed by the top fuel dragsters with chassis made by companies named McKinney and Hadman.

But the stories continue in the Funny Car, Pro Stock and Pro Stock Motorcycle classes as well, where more common cars like Ford Mustangs, Pontiac Firebirds and Chevy Camaros make up most of the field. In the competition class, one can find a '69 'Cuda, a '76 Pinto and even a 1925 Model T Ford on the track. The names can be familiar to the casual observer as well. There is Joe Gibbs, former coach of the National Football League's Super Bowl champion Washington Redskins, now owner of Gibbs Racing which runs cars carrying the McDonald's logo.

The sights: While the name of the game is speed, one thing makes it possible for these events to be so successful — and profitable. Sponsorship.

The first NHRA race was held in 1955 on an airport runway in Great Bend, Kan. Since then the NHRA has grown into the largest sanctioning body with more than 80,000 active members, 26,000 licensed competitors and 3,800 annual events on 137 member racetracks in the U.S., Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico.

The accommodations: Gateway can seat up to 20,000 spectators in grandstand seating along both sides of the track, hundreds more in two premium seating sections located at the start line (earplugs strongly advised), and still more in 10 luxury seats located in the tower behind the starting area.

The press accommodations aren't bad either, located in the first floor of the tower. Many of the aforementioned sponsors also provide free samples of their products in the media center located less than 50 yards from the starting line at Gateway. Working reporters can enjoy beverages and cigarettes (outdoors only) as they call in their stories or tap their modems into the scores of available telephone lines.

A SELLER'S MOST VALUABLE ASSET

Probably the most valuable asset that sellers have in their quest to sell their homes is an experienced and reputable agent. His or her knowledge is brought to bear when it comes time to offer advice on the suggested listing price, give an educated guess as to how long it may take to sell the property, and offer valuable suggestions on how the seller may best present the home to prospective buyers. The major advantage that the agent has to offer sellers is that by listing with the agent, information about the property will be made available to a wide network of other agents and Multiple Listing Service (MLS), usually within 24 hours of signing an agreement with an MLS agent. Rodeo queen

Student wins state high school title, will compete for national crown

By Michelle Duell
Staff writer

A 17-year-old high school student from Granite City has won the title of Illinois High School Rodeo Queen at the Effingham County Fairgrounds in a rodeo competition held at Altamont.

This is the first time Rosie Gordon, daughter of David Gordon and Carol Gordon, Holten of Granite City, has won a title. She was the only Granite City participant in the competition.

As a prize, she was given a hand-made saddle that she will use as a trophy.

"I'm the queen of the whole state," said Gordon, who has been riding horses for seven years but participating in rodeos for only three.

"I rode a black-and-white Appaloosa I borrowed from a friend of mine."

Gordon said she lost points in the horsemanship part of the competition because she wasn't riding her own horse, but she scored high enough in the other categories to win the title.

In the horsemanship competition, Gordon had to ride in two types of patterns.

The first one involved carrying a sponsor's flag and riding around the arena at a slow pace, then again at a run, coming to a fast stop with a salute to the judges.

The second one involved riding in two figure eight patterns.

Besides being judged on horsemanship during the queen selection process, Gordon was judged on modeling, personality, appearance, a two-minute speech, an impromptu speech, a personal interview and was tested on a rule book, she said. She was chosen from among five candidates.

"I was very excited," Gordon said of her new title. "My friend started crying, but I didn't cry."

Gordon said she became involved in rodeoing after a friend of hers started to participate in rodeos.

"I thought I would do it with him," Gordon said. Before that, she "started out just horseback riding, then participated in horse shows and went into high school rodeo."

The rodeo organization in which she participated and competed — the National High School Rodeo Association — is the largest in the world with more than 10,000 members, she said.

Gordon will be participating in the national competition with 47 other state rodeo queens, including one from Canada, July 11-20 in Pueblo, Colo.

If she wins that competition, she said, she will have to travel around the country promoting rodeos.

Currently she is required to do that in Illinois and to participate in parades in the Granite City area.

Gordon is a student at Rosati-Kain High School in St. Louis.

OSHA begins investigation of fatal accident at school

Federal authorities continue to investigate the death of an Alhambra man who was trapped under a trailer at the Center Grove Road in Edwardsville.

Darwin K. Voigt, 52, of the 4700 block of Weber Road, died about 3 p.m. Wednesday at Anderson Hospital in Maryville. An autopsy later attributed his death to asphyxiation due to compression of the chest, Madison County Coroner Dallas Burke said.

Investigators sealed off the site shortly after the accident about 2 p.m. Wednesday.

"Our primary focus now is to determine what happened, how it happened and how to help companies prevent it from happening in the future," said Wes Taylor, assistant area director of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration office in Fairview Heights.

"It's critical that we gather all the facts now. We initiated the investigation Wednesday night and went back to the site today," he said Thursday.

Voigt, a laborer with Local No. 179 in Edwardsville, was working for subcontractors Miller & Mackie on a highway interchange school project managed by Korte Construction Co. of Highland.

"Our people are interviewing workers and gathering information. We cannot make any determinations until we get all the facts together," Taylor said.

Edwardsville schools Superintendent Ed Hightower said he spent time with Voigt's family Thursday. He said he plans to approach the school board to see what can be done to memorialize Voigt, possibly including planting a tree on school grounds in his name.

Preliminary police reports indicated Voigt was working with several men to level several 60-foot trailers that had been moved to a site near the high school entry drive off Center Grove Road.

He was apparently on his knees working around the outside of the trailer when it suddenly shifted and fell, pinning him underneath.

Beverly Farm union faces charges

GODFREY — The union that represents most Beverly Farm employees may face charges from the National Labor Relations Board charges that it has engaged in unfair labor practices.

The charges come on the heels of a decision in the union's favor last week in Circuit Court in Edwardsville.

An NLRB hearing is scheduled in St. Louis July 15 to hear complaints that the representatives of AFSCME Council 31 impeded entry and exit at Beverly Farm's main gate on March 12, April 26 and April 27; that AFSCME staff representative Rodney Douglas tried to use force to enter the facility on March 27 and April 26; and that the union picketed on April 28 without providing a required 10-day notice to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Beverly Farm is a home for developmentally disabled people in Godfrey. It has been engaged in a three-year labor dispute with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

On Friday, Associate Judge Ronald B. Walker denied Beverly Farm's petition for a temporary restraining order that would have restricted AFSCME representatives' access to the facility.

Beverly Farm executive director Monte Walker said he sees "a little contradiction" between the NLRB complaints and the court decision.

"(Bono) more than likely is not as much in tune with federal labor law," Walker said. "There has been an attempt by the union to sort of run over us on occasion. We've tried to go along with what we see as appropriate actions. We feel they haven't in many cases."

Peggy Zimmerman, an AFSCME staff representative, said the union denies all the allegations.

"Most of these incidents are exactly what the judge ruled on last week," she said. "There was no ingress or egress blocked. We didn't engage in any picketing."

Zimmerman said Beverly Farm filed the unfair labor practices charges with the NLRB about the same time it petitioned for the restraining order that was denied in the Circuit Court.

"We think everyone would be better served if (Beverly Farm officials) would focus their resources on returning to the bargaining table," she said.

The NLRB has found Beverly Farm guilty of numerous labor law violations during a three-year dispute with the union and is under NLRB order to resume negotiations with the union.

Bono ruled that AFSCME representatives have a right to go onto the property to represent employees in grievance proceedings, investigate grievances or drive union employees to the facility for the purpose of posting notices or distributing leaflets, activities protected by federal labor laws.

$1 counseling sessions being offered

InnerAction, Ltd., a counseling agency in Edwardsville, is offering 45-minute counseling sessions to low-income individuals and families without insurance for $1.

Dr. Linda Cassens, director of InnerAction, Ltd., said she is concerned that the stress and violence in everyday life is leading to an increase in individuals' problems.

The agency would like to help those who need but are unable to seek counseling because the cost of counseling services is often so prohibitive that many people cannot afford to take care of their emotional needs.

The program will provide affordable counseling for anyone who has not been able to participate in counseling; $1 per session.

The $1 charge will be donated to the Glen/Ed Food Pantry to help other individuals and families in need.

The counseling sessions are on Tuesday and Wednesday. Daytime and evening appointments are available. Please contact InnerAction, Ltd. at 656-2402 for an appointment or additional information.

want to bring an awareness to the issue and for people to alter their behaviors."

Locally, the Clean Air Hotline is provided by Memorial Hospital in cooperation with the St. Clair County Health Department, American Lung Association and 4 St. Louis KMOV-TV.

By dialing 257-6265, residents receive the Air Quality Forecast of either Green, Yellow, or Red.

A forecast of Green means the outdoor air quality is in good condition.

A Yellow forecast means the air quality is deteriorating and becoming problematic, while Red means the outdoor air conditions are poor and can be unhealthy to breathe.

Seven Red air quality days were declared last year, Bishop said.

Last year, three hotlines were set-up in Missouri and none were in Illinois. One hotline alone received 27,000 calls, Bishop said.

"It was a tremendous response. We were blown away by the response," he said.

Bishop said he wants to stress how problems with the ozone are a public health issue, affecting the breathing of children and asthmatics.

"Individuals and companies all have the power to do something. They can make behavior changes that positively affect the environment," he said.

Air quality information can also be obtained through 4 St. Louis KMOV television broadcasts at 6 a.m., noon, 5 p.m., 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. Other area television stations broadcast the air quality forecasts after 6 p.m.

The information is also broadcast on radio stations WIL-FM, K-HITS FM, and WRTH AM during their morning drive broadcasts.

Tips for reducing air pollution

By Kimberly Haas
Staff writer

Both the St. Clair County Health Department and American Lung Association offer tips on reducing air pollution.

Tips include:

Carpool or ride the bus or MetroLink because sharing a ride just once a week helps. If possible, ride your bike or walk to work.

Keep vehicle speeds at the posted speed limits and steady, as "gunning" your engine creates even more pollutants.

On Red air quality days, avoid putting gasoline in your vehicle. If you must fill up the tank, wait until after 7 p.m.

"I don't want to stand in the way of progress," Falter said. After discussion, it was agreed that Falter would speak to Vincent and Whitwell regarding his complaints.

Falter said Wednesday that items were going to the board without him having an opportunity to look at them.

Pontoon Beach has been riddled with political fighting between two factions: on one side are Whitwell, Vincent, Trustee Bob Abel, Wilson and Police Chief Mike Crouch.

On the other are Trustees Randy Presswood, Irene Karlechik, Falter and Village Clerk Mary Rowden.

Presswood asked to be removed from the Streets and the repairs. When Presswood asked where it went, Whitwell said the $15,000 had been put in the general fund.

"We need to do that work," Presswood said Wednesday. "Those guys are playing games and not being responsible for the work. If we don't have the money, why not?"

Presswood said FEMA sent the village a $15,000 check last November with his name on it, as payment to repair the road, which was damaged in a flood.

In other business, the board passed a license application from Granite City Steel and the Community Federal Credit Union, which wanted to put an automatic teller machine at 4101 State Highway 111.

According to the Municipal Code, a motion may be tabled once. After that, it must be addressed.

2,700-acre enterprise zone, some of which is slated for annexation to Edwardsville. Many residents don't want Mitchell to annex Pontoon Beach or Granite City and a new village might itself annex some of the enterprise zone.

Illinois law provides that an area with fewer than 7,500 residents can't be incorporated as a village or city if an existing municipality within 1 1/2 miles objects.

But incorporation proponents say the proposed village of Mitchell includes 7,997 residents, according to 1990 census figures.

"There are probably more than that now," Lee said. He said the proponents are now assembling facts and figures they expect to use in a campaign on behalf of incorporation.

Food for thought

BAC writing class holds food drive

By Michelle Duell
Staff writer

A basic writing class at Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus recently had food for thought. The beneficiary was Phoenix House, a Granite City shelter for abused women and their children. Instructor Cynthia Hussein had decided her class should write about food, and she thought it also would be an opportunity to hold a food drive as a learning service project, she said. In choosing a charitable organization to receive the food, class member Kimberly Hastings suggested Phoenix House, where she once stayed after leaving an abusive relationship, Hussein said. "It's a very nice, loving atmosphere there," Hastings said of the Granite City women's shelter. She also said the director and founder of Phoenix House, Carol Chiappa-Burgess, was "a very kind person." Chiappa-Burgess accepted the donated food at Hussein's class and spoke about Phoenix House. "She was grateful for the canned goods and other items" the class collected, Hussein said. "It was a wonderful surprise," Chiappa-Burgess said. "Phoenix House provides practical and emotional support for abused women and their children." Hastings said she is determined to continue to improve her life. In November, she received a general education diploma from BAC. Hastings now is pursuing an associate of arts degree at the Granite City Campus with a career goal of becoming a counselor, she said.

Little's retirement alters committee's meeting time

The Madison County Board's powerful Finance Committee now will begin meeting at 10 a.m. instead of the traditional 4:30 p.m., starting in July. The reason for the time change is the retirement of Chairman Bill Little, D-Alton. Little, 59, is retiring from his job as a flight instructor after 41 years with McDonnell Douglas Corp. of St. Louis County, Mo. "I am grateful to everyone for meeting later to accommodate my schedule," Little said at the committee's meeting Tuesday.

The committee is responsible for overseeing the county's multimillion-dollar budget and making budget recommendations to the full County Board. It also reviews salaries, along with the Personnel Committee. The committee will begin meeting in August regarding the fiscal year 1998 budget. Meetings are held in the County Board Conference Room on the first floor of the county Administration Building, 157 N. Main St.

The committee's current members are Little; Jack Frandsen, D-Alhambra; Alan Dunstan, D-Troy; Don Rea, D-Granite City; and Don Garrett, D-Madison.

Stassi accusers up to 10

The number of sexual assault allegations against Wood River City Councilman Tony Stassi has grown to 10, authorities said.

"We believe there are others out there over the last eight or 10 years," Madison County State's Attorney Bill Haine said at a news conference Thursday.

Stassi, 49, was jailed last week after being charged with three counts of aggravated criminal sexual assault in an alleged attack on a 17-year-old woman who said he asked her to clean his house.

A Circuit Court grand jury Thursday handed up an indictment containing the same charges that were filed by the State's Attorney's Office last week.

At the time of the alleged offenses, Stassi was free on a $150,000 bond while awaiting trial on an aggravated criminal sexual assault charge filed in a May 9, 1986, abduction and rape of a 19-year-old woman in Alton.

Stassi has been denied bail on the new charges.

Haine said that since Stassi's arrest last week, authorities have been contacted by eight more women who said they also had been attacked by him. Three of the women wanted to give their names, Haine said.

One woman who called Wednesday said she was attacked by Stassi earlier this year, which may result in more charges, Haine said.

A five-year statute of limitations apparently will prevent prosecution in at least three of the reported cases, but Haine said evidence of such attacks may be admissible at trial to establish a pattern of alleged criminal activity or in a sentencing hearing to bolster arguments for stronger punishment.

He encouraged other victims to call Illinois State Police Special Agent Sharon Lambert at (618) 346-3769. He said those who prefer not to file a formal police report may call a sexual assault hot line at (800) 656-4673 and the calls will be kept confidential.

Haine said there are similarities in the reports. He said all of the victims are 17 to 21 years old, of slight build and say they were threatened with death if they reported the attacks.

All but two of the women said they were attacked after being hired for house cleaning, authorities said.

Haine said he does not find it surprising that more attacks were not reported. He said he thinks the women — all young and relatively small — were fearful of Stassi because of his imposing physical stature, his perceived political power and his threats to kill them.

Haine said he thinks one reason women are coming forward now is that Stassi is in jail without bail. Haine said he would oppose any motion to set bail and does not think a judge would do so under the circumstances.

"We hope this individual doesn't see the light of day for the rest of his life."

Deering killed in accident

By Joe Leicht
Staff writer

116th District State Rep. Terry Deering was killed just after midnight Wednesday when his auto ran off a Washington County road near Nashville and struck a dirt embankment.

Deering was returning home after attending a St. Louis Cardinals baseball game, according to an Illinois State Police release.

He was driving alone in his 1993 Cadillac on Washington County Highway 37 when he apparently failed to reduce his speed sufficiently to negotiate a turn onto Posen Road.

No other vehicles were involved in the accident. The Washington County Sheriff's Department was called to the scene at 12:22 a.m. after a passerby who discovered the wreck called 911. State Police investigators processed the accident scene; their investigation is ongoing.

Excessive speed was apparently a critical factor in the crash.

Deering was wearing his seat belt and his driver's side air bag deployed, but the measures did not prevent him from being killed on impact. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

A State Police spokesman said Thursday that preliminary evidence did not suggest alcohol played a role in the fatality. Authorities said alcohol use could not be ruled out until a full coroner's inquest is completed, probably early this week.

The legislator had weathered an embarrassing episode May 17 when he was arrested by State Police in Macoupin County for driving under the influence of alcohol. A month earlier, he had voted against lower blood-alcohol standards for motorists.

Deering, a Democrat, represented Monroe, St. Clair, Washington and Randolph Counties in the Illinois Assembly for three and a half terms, 1990 through 1997.

He began his political career as the mayor of DuBois. Before entering elected public service, Deering was a coal miner and a diesel mechanic.

The 38-year-old legislator is survived by his wife Reita and three children: Greyson, 12, Clayton, 10 and Allyssa, 9.

Drivers' facilities open Monday

Secretary of State George H. Ryan has announced that driver services facilities throughout Illinois will expand their operating hours to accommodate license plate registration renewals due at the end of the month.

Passenger car, B-truck and small trailer owners who have license plates expiring in June can purchase renewal stickers at one of the 116 secretary of state license facilities, 2,356 financial institutions statewide or through "Touch-Tone Renewal."

Although most downstate full-time facilities are normally closed on Monday, they will be open Monday, June 30, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. to accommodate last-minute sticker sales.

"I hope that these expanded hours will help ease the last-minute rush of people who renew their license plate stickers," Ryan said.

HOROSCOPE

Sunday, June 29
 Life is savory under a scrumptious Taurus moon. Find something to indulge yourself in since the moon's stirring up appetites. Most people will only be satisfied by the best that money can get, but you'll live it up even if you just stay at home and have a barbecue. The Cancer sun brings the party home, so show off a bit.
ARIES (March 21-April 19). A Leo has ideas on how you can improve your love life. Take the necessary steps to create a domestic environment that lifts your spirit. A new health regimen or diet is just what you need to boost your energy.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20). A co-worker phones to discuss office politics — be cautious in what you say. Your love wants to tell you exactly how he or she feels, so listen with an open mind. An outdoor event is the spot for meeting an old friend.
GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Exercise your right to privacy when friends press hard for information on a new romance. A fellow Gemini is excited about beginning a collaborative project with you. Art and literature are the cures for the afternoon blues.
CANCER (June 22-July 22). A creative project will be most successful if you team with a Leo or Capricorn. A decisive move will keep you out of the feud at a family function. A romantic partner is willing to make a compromise.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Allow a friend to help you with a financial dilemma. A recent setback at work will not hinder you from furthering your education. A child or sibling wishes to spend more time with you — make this a priority.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 29). Getting over past problems allows you to continue on the road to your new life. In July, a creative journey begins. Trust your instincts. In the last half of July, you'll move ahead in your career. Love is grand in September with a Pisces or Aries. Business investments are best made in October and November. Your luckiest months are August and September.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Seek out a friend who encourages your spiritual growth. A Libra or Taurus desires to begin a romantic relationship with you. Complete a domestic project with the help of a neighbor or a family member.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Get chores out of the way so you can spend more time relaxing with your love. An Aries resists teaming up on a creative project. Give it time and he or she will come around. Expect a phone call from a Leo.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Sing praises of your boss at a social event and it'll boost your career. A generous Pisces makes it possible for you to travel in the near future. A romantic partner is about to make a bigger commitment.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Resolve an argument with a friend by letting your guard down. A Virgo phones about a business investment. An artistic project is completed with inspiration from a book or movie.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Your willingness to help involves you in a community project. A love makes a difficult question, so answer as truthfully as possible. Let a Gemini know that he or she has hurt your feelings.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Keep a journal to chart your progress in a creative project. A serious problem arises at a family gathering that necessitates working together. A romantic partner is curious about your past romantic history.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Look in unusual places for home decorating ideas. A Sagittarius needs to hear that you care about him or her. A co-worker invites you to a sensational event. Romance with a fellow Pisces isn't in the cards right now.

Cahokia Mounds events set
 Archaeological excavations, an observance of the Summer Solstice sunrise, dance performances and guided tours highlight current activities at Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site. Dr. Melvin Fowler, of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, and a crew of excavators will search through the end of July for evidence of another Woodhenge at Cahokia. Fowler believes that large posts he found beneath Mound 72 during the late 1960s are associated with another of these post-circle mounds.
 Starting June 1, free guided tours will be offered at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and 12:30 and 1:30 p.m. on Sundays. The early tour will include Mound 1 and the Stockade reconstructions, and the later tour will include the Twin Mounds, Mound 72 and Grand Plaza areas. The tours last about an hour. Self-guided tours of Mounds Mound, the Plaza and Woodhenge are available at all times through the free loan of a cassette tape or the purchase of a guidebook in the Museum Shop.
 Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site, administered by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, is near Collinsville off Interstate 55/70 and 255 on Collinsville Road. It is open daily free of charge, although a donation of $2 for adults and $1 for children is suggested. Call (618) 546-5160 for more information or a calendar of Events.

IHSA may set minimum GPA

If I heard correctly, the Chicago Public School Board announced last spring that grade school students in that city will have to pass classes in order to be promoted.

How naive am I? I thought that was the case everywhere. Yet, that decision might well be related to a bill introduced in the Illinois General Assembly (by Rep. Verna Clayton, R-Buffalo Grove) forcing the Illinois High School Association to institute a minimum grade point average for student-athletes.

And, that bill just might have resulted from employers tired of dealing with inept individuals in a work force where a high school diploma just might not mean what it represents.

For student-athletes, I've always considered the IHSA minimum for eligibility nearly laughable. For instance, as it now stands, a student can continue to compete even if he/she were carrying Ds in four courses and flunking two others.

According to Sen. Martin Butler (R-Park Ridge), IHSA Executive Secretary H. David Fry has assured him that the association will act on its own, preferring to tighten its own rules rather than have its hands tied by state law.

Said Fry: "I intend to work to get an amendment proposal to try to enhance academic standards."

Thus, state athletic directors and principals can expect to hear from Fry later this summer and vote on whether to establish a minimum cumulative grade point average for athletes.

Student-athletes, especially those in the Chicago area, can rest easy if they currently are carrying less than a 2.0 gpa (commonly accepted as a C) since the proposal could not take effect until after the 1998 school year.

Yet, that does not mean that students, parents, teachers, and administrators should not keep a wary eye on a school's standards.

"The problem at schools in our state and in the nation is that a 2.0 is not the same at all schools," warned O'Fallon High School principal Dennis Grimmer.

Grimmer then referred to some courses at O'Fallon that are worth less than a full credit — including physical education and punting, which are worth one-eighth — and band, chorus, driver education and computer orientation, which are worth one-fourth.

"There are some schools in the area that count PE as one-half credit and band as a full credit," said Grimmer, who noted that O'Fallon students are urged to take more classes to stay above the minimum of passing just four courses.

"Much depends on what the minimum will be," Grimmer said of Fry's proposal. "Whatever he sets, we feel we are still above."

With an average ACT score of 23.4 — well above the state composite of 21.2 and national average of 20.9 — O'Fallon easily supports Grimmer's statement, but I cannot help but wonder how many other schools simply adhere to the current IHSA minimum.

Four Ds, two Fs. That's amazingly low to maintain athletic eligibility.

Michelle Montgomery, one of the leaders of the Granite City girls soccer team's defense, also led the Lady Warriors in scoring with 17 goals and 13 assists. She was voted by area coaches as the Illinois Journals Player of the Year.

Playing counter Defensive specialist Montgomery runs up numbers with Granite City

So many things about Michelle Montgomery seem like contradictions. She is quiet and unassuming, but a strong leader. She is a rabid hockey fan, but plays soccer. She is the prototype defender, but led the Granite City girls soccer team in every offensive category this year. She avoids the limelight and is overly modest, yet she is the 1997 Illinois Journals Player of the Year.

It was no contest. From her backfield position, Montgomery would streak up the side of field with the ball, abruptly turning defensive stops into offensive charges. Her passing and crossing skills, coupled with a hard, accurate shot, enabled the senior all-stater to score 17 goals, dish out 13 assists and lead Granite City in scoring with 47 points.

She helped lead the Lady Warriors to a 22-3-1 record and a berth to the state tournament earlier this month.

"She brought so much adrenalin to each game. There was a certain amount of electricity present whenever she was on the field."

— Gene Baker
Granite City coach

"Michelle Montgomery was electric," said Granite City coach Gene Baker. "When she took the ball upfield, something positive always happened for us. She brought so much adrenalin to each game. There was a certain amount of electricity present whenever she was on the field."

Montgomery, who will be playing soccer this fall for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, played left midfield for the Lady Warriors her first two seasons, but was moved by Baker to the backfield her junior year.

She thrives on defense. "I like marking the tough players," she said. "It motivates me to do the very best I can do."

"It's unusual to find a player as flexible as Montgomery is," said SIUE women's soccer coach Brian Korbesmeyer. "She is probably the best defender in the area, yet there's not a position on the field that she cannot play and play with excellence. Her greatest strength is her versatility."

"Flexibility is the word which best describes Montgomery," Baker said. "She played with excellence on all three thirds of the field. And she did it game-in and game-out, without fail. She was as consistent as they come."

Montgomery got her start in organized soccer at the age of 4, and has been learning the game and growing ever since. But, she is quick to point out: (See MONTGOMERY, Page 2B)

Siegel sets own standard with 29-goal campaign

Other members of the Illinois Journals All-Area first team, and a summary of each: TASHA SIEGEL, Collinsville: The junior forward, who finished second in the Player of the Year voting behind Granite City's Michelle Montgomery, once again led the Kahoks in goals with a career-best 29. That total helped Siegel garner all-sectional honors.

Siegel's 29 goals this spring also broke the Collinsville school record of 26, set by Kahoks head coach Deanna Wallace in 1984 — the first year Collinsville offered girls soccer. Over her three-year career, Siegel has scored 56 goals.

"At the beginning of the season I wanted to beat the 19 goals I had last year. I wasn't too much into the (school) record," Siegel said. "I went after it when I was one away from the record. Last year, at the banquet, (Wallace) said, 'You have got to beat my record.'"

From 19 goals to 29 in one season is a remarkable jump. Siegel is 39 on the horizon for next spring. "That's really not a goal. I really just want to make All-State," said Siegel, who added 10 assists this year for a total of 68 points. "Because it is (going to be) my senior year, I really want to go to state next year. It would also be a high honor to be the player of the year. I also want to beat 29 goals."

Junior forward Tasha Siegel (right) broke the single-season record for goals at Collinsville this year with 29.

AMIE RENGEL, Triad: Rengel was the youngest player to be named to the All-Area team.

Rengel, a sophomore, led the Lady Knights in scoring this season with 19 goals and 18 assists. Rengel scored a goal in 10 of the Lady Knights' 14 games.

Her shining moment came April 16 against Mississippi Valley Conference opponent Civic Memorial. Rengel scored four goals and assisted on three others.

"I see Amie — if she continues to play like she is playing and her confidence level goes up and she stays healthy — as a senior making All-State," Triad coach Amy Bickford said.

Granite foundation fills out area squad

By Patrick C. Heston
Staff writer

A house is only as strong as its foundation.

The same is true of soccer squads. Granite City High School girls soccer coach Gene Baker admits to building his teams from a strong foundation first, he theorizes, and the entire structure will be strong.

He built one of his finest foundations this season. The Lady Warriors swept the first-team selections on defense for the Illinois Journals All-Area soccer team. Defenders Michelle Montgomery, Connie Meyers and Crystal Timmons, along with goalie Shannon Roth, were tabbed as the region's best.

As Baker's offense was cranking out goals at a pace of nearly four a game, the Granite City defense was just that — granite, allowing an average of just one goal every two games.

That almost impenetrable defense sparked the Lady Warriors to the No. 2 ranking in the St. Louis area, the highest ranking ever for a Granite City girls team, and to a best-ever 22-3-1 record — which included a second straight appearance in the the Lancers, including the school's inaugural season in 1996. This year she had 15 goals and 10 assists.

"The best thing about Kelley is her attitude and her work rate," said Mark Lasley, East's first-year head coach. "She continues to do the things she knows how to do."

"Early in the year she was upset because she couldn't score, but she ended up being our third-leading scorer (behind Shannon Bramble and Christen Seaman, who had 17 and 16 goals, respectively). But she had five or six game-winning goals and that's what made her the top forward on our team. Her leadership as a senior was great."

Tragesser will play Division II soccer at Cumberland College in Kentucky.

AMY YOUNG, O'Fallon: A junior and a three-year starter, Young had 24 goals to lead the Panthers in scoring for the second straight season.

"Her strengths are her size, her skill and her deceptive speed," said O'Fallon coach Dave Ames. "She's what you'd consider a natural striker—she always seems to know where the goal is and she goes for it. Her biggest improvement this year was that she was able to hold the ball when we got it to her and do something with it."

JENNIFER EICKMEIER, Althoff: A four-year starter, Eickmeier finished her prep career with 48 goals and 48 assists. She was named to the all-state team this season and earned first-team all-sectional honors each year.

"She can play anywhere," said Althoff coach Haig

Nighthossian. "She has good skills, great speed and a great desire to play the game. This year she became more involved in all aspects of the game. As a co-captain, she had to be a leader and take on more responsibility. She fulfilled her obligation."

Eickmeier, who plays for the J.B. Marine select team in St. Louis, will attend Southwest Missouri State University on a soccer scholarship.

JAIME DELLBRINGE,

Granite City: Dellbringe was, in many ways, the key to Granite City's suffocating defense this season. From her position at midfield, she turned away many offensive attacks before they reached the backfield.

University of Kentucky women's soccer coach Warren Lipka, for whom Dellbringe will play this fall, calls Jaime "a great ball-winner at midfield, good with the ball on her feet and strong in the air. She always positions herself well."

Granite City coach Gene

Baker also had praise for his four-year standout performer, calling her "an excellent player in every phase of the game. Jaime plays all three thirds of the field like very few players can. It is unusual to find a girl who is as flexible positionally as Jaime is. She has tremendous soccer skills and savvy."

Dellbringe's career at Granite City landed her numerous awards, including the Olympic Development Team selections in both Missouri and Illinois. Barring injury, Dellbringe should have a sterling collegiate career.

"As great a player as she was at Granite City," said Baker, "Jaime's best soccer is ahead of her."

AMY HENKHAUS, Edwardsville: A two-year starter for coach Mark Schwarzkopf, Henkhaus will long be remembered as one of the players who founded the Tigers' girls soccer program.

Henkhaus, who is headed to Southern Indiana on a soccer scholarship, gave the team program much stability and leadership the last two seasons. Her experience playing for J.B. Marine, a select team in St. Louis, made her a major force for the Tigers.

"I think the reason why Henkhaus separates herself from other players of the game is a real student of the game," Schwarzkopf said. "She has been playing since she was extremely young. It is a quality educational experience for herself as far as the sport goes."

"She tries to set a positive example for the other players, whether it is in training or in the game. She really has no limitations."

Montgomery

having a sister two years her junior has greatly helped her game.

"Melissa and I practiced together all the time," she said. "We always used to go out into the field behind our house and work on skills together. Sometimes we would play little one-on-one games. In high school, playing with Melissa in the line-up has made it a lot easier for me."

"We've played together so often that we each know what the other is going to do. That makes each of us better players than we would be by ourselves. Part of it is because neither one of us wants to be out-done by the other."

Montgomery, who is genuinely humble and uncomfortable talking about herself, is quick to give credit to those she feels are responsible for her success.

"Coach Baker has really given me a great deal of confidence," she said. "He always told me I could do it. He kept encouraging me. And when I did it and succeeded it made me even more confident I could keep on doing it."

"And playing with the great players who surrounded me made all the difference in the world. As a defender we didn't get challenged a whole lot because the forwards kept the ball at the other end and our opponents could seldom get the ball past our midfielders. But when we did get challenged, the forwards and midfielders came back to help us. They were always there for us. One player gets the postseason honor, but the whole team working together makes it possible."

Defense

state finals.

"We were strong defensively all year," Baker said. "The girls in our backfield could mark players completely out of the game. There's no question they were the secret to our success."

It was really no secret. Whether it was Megan Steward and Chatham Glenwood, Tasha Siegel and Collinsville, or Amy Timmerman and Incarnate Word, everyone knew coming in that scoring chances would be few and far between when playing the Lady Warriors. Granite City was easily the best defensive team in Illinois outside of metropolitan Chicago.

Of the four first-team selections on defense, only Roth is not a senior. She was also named to the all-Southwestern Conference and all-sectional squads.

Shannon Roth had a very good year in goal for us," Baker said. "She fought through some early problems and some late injuries to come on strong. She was playing her best in the postseason, she was working on some things in the offseason and matures in some areas, she will be a great goalie her senior year."

Baker called Timmons "unsung until the end of the year when she moved forward and people started to notice her."

ulations to Belleville East senior outfielder Bridget Fourie, who was named to the first team of the Chicago Tribune "all-state girls softball team."

During the Lancers' 33-3 season, including an unbeaten Southwestern Conference trek, Fourie led the Metro East in hitting (.556), runs batted in (38), home runs (6), on-base percentage (.610), slugging percentage (.898) and stolen bases (36).

Baker called Timmons "unsung until the end of the year when she moved forward and people started to notice her."

The 5-foot-7 senior finished tied for fifth in scoring for the Lady Warriors, one of two defenders to place in the top five, finishing the year with six goals and seven assists for 19 points. Most of the goals came late in the year, with the biggest one coming against Collinsville in the sectional semifinals.

Connie Meyers, who was all-state as a junior, just missed the same honor again this year. Still, her play as sweeper was a crucial element in the Lady Warriors' season-long success.

"Connie should have been all-state again," Baker said. "With so little representation from Southern Illinois among those selecting all-state players, with the very well balanced team we had this year, and with the highly visible play of Michelle Montgomery, Connie was passed over. But in my mind she was once more an all-state player."

All-state honors did go to the St. Louis-based Montgomery, who was the heart and soul of the defensive unit.

"Michelle played with such passion and energy," Baker said. "As I have said many times before, we are a better team when she is on the field. Her presence is electric. When she gets the ball and moves forward, good things start happening for us."

Montgomery, who has a nose for knowing when to stay back and when to move forward, was not only an all-state defender but was also the Lady Warriors' top offensive player, netting 17 goals and distributing 13 assists—outscoring midfielder Jaime Dellbringe, the team's second leading scorer, by a whopping 21 points.

Driver services facility hours extended

Secretary of State George H. Ryan has announced that driver services facilities throughout Illinois will expand their operating hours to accommodate the large number of license plate registration renewals due at the end of the month.

Passenger car, B-truck and small trailer owners who have license plates expiring in June can purchase renewal stickers at one of the 116 secretary of state license facilities, 2,356 financial institutions statewide or through "Touch-Tone Renewal."

Although most downstate full-time facilities are normally closed on Monday, they will be open Monday, June 30, from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. to accommodate last-minute sticker sales.

"I hope that these expanded hours will help ease the last-minute rush of people who race to meet the deadline to renew their license plate stickers," Ryan said. "Normally at the end of June, we see long lines at many facilities because so many registrations are due for renewal."

The new, red-on-gray sticker is attached to the back of the ID card. To protect your sticker from theft, remove as many old stickers as possible before placing the new sticker on the rear plate.

Anyone driving a vehicle on or after July 1 with expired 1997 fiscal plates or a June 1997 sticker will be subject to a fine for improper registration.

Questions regarding operating hours of any of the 138 driver services facilities in Illinois or instructions for renewals can be directed to the secretary of state's office at 1-800-282-8880.

Rules for flag display stress custom, dignity

- Here are the rules for proper display and use of the American flag, as established by generally accepted custom and by Public Law 94-344, approved by Congress and signed by the president of the United States.
- It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaves in the open. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed 24 hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.
 - The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.
 - The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all-weather flag is displayed.
 - The flag should be displayed on all special days.
 - The flag should be displayed daily on or near the main administration building of every public institution.
 - The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.
 - The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every schoolhouse.
 - When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting from a window sill, balcony or building front, the union of the flag should always be at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-staff.
 - When suspended over a sidewalk from a rope between a building and a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out from the building union first.
 - When displayed over the middle of the street, the American flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east-west street, or to the east in a north-south street.
 - When carried in a parade front with other flags, the American flag should always be to the marching right of the other flags, or to the front and center of the flag line.
 - When displayed on a float in a parade, the American flag should be mounted on a staff or, if displayed flat, it should be so suspended that its folds fall free, as though the flag were staffed.
 - The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or a boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be fixed firmly to the chassis, or clamped to the right fender.
 - The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.
 - During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag, or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all people present except those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military salute. When not in uniform, men should remove their headwear with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart.
 - Aliens should stand at attention. The salute to the flag in moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.
 - During the rendition of the national anthem when the Boy was always proud of flag

By Virginia "Ginger" Howland
Seeing the photo of the two little boys waving the miniature flags on the front page of the Granite City Journal brought to mind another little boy. How proud he was of the American flag, a small one always waving from the antenna of his truck. When he was very young, his doting grandmother told him everyone celebrated his birthday on June 14, Flag Day, that is. When he became a man, he served his country in the U.S. Army and was very proud to be honor guard for Gen. Omar Bradley while stationed on Gyuana. This past Memorial Day, our children and I were very proud to see his name, John Edward Howland, placed on the Veterans Memorial Wall at Lake View Memorial Gardens and his flag waving high in the group of many that was placed around the gardens in honor of all VFW members who passed away in 1996. I like to think a big smile came on his face when he looked down on the beautiful group of Old Glories waving in the breeze. In Loving Memory: John Edward Howland; Born June 14, 1927; Died Oct. 24, 1996

flag is displayed, all present except those in uniform should stand at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. Men not in uniform should remove their headress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. People in uniform should render the military salute at the first note of the anthem and retain this position until the last note. When the flag is not displayed, those present should face toward the music and act in the same manner they would if the flag were displayed there.

➤ The Pledge of Allegiance should be rendered by standing at attention facing the flag with the right hand over the heart. When not in uniform, men should remove their headress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. People in uniform should remain silent, face the flag and render the military salute.

➤ When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of approximately equal size.

➤ When flags or pennants of states, cities or societies are flown on the same halyard with the American flag, the latter should always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs, the flag should be hoisted first and lowered last.

➤ No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the American flag, except during church services conducted by Naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during church services for Navy personnel.

➤ Do not display the American flag with the union down, except as a signal of dire distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.

➤ Do not let the American flag touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, floor, water or merchandise.

➤ The American flag should be a distinctive feature of a ceremony for unveiling a statue or monument, but the flag should never be used as the cover for the statue or monument.

➤ On Memorial Day, the flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon only, then raised to the top of the staff.

➤ When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, the flag should be displayed in the same way, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

➤ The American flag should never be used as drapery, never festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds. It should always be allowed to fall free. Bunting should be used for decoration.

➤ When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be above and behind the speaker. Use bunting to decorate a speaker's desk or the front of the platform.

➤ When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, the American flag should hold the position of superior prominence, in advance of the audience, and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the clergyman or speaker or to the right of the audience.

➤ The American flag should never be used as a table cover or receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying or delivering anything.

Steps for folding the flag

Steps for folding the American flag include:

1. Two people, facing each other, hold the flag waist high and horizontally between them.
2. Fold the lower striped section lengthwise over the blue field. Hold bottom to top, edges together, securely.
3. Then fold the flag again, lengthwise, folded edge to open edge.
4. Start a triangular fold along the length of the flag from the end to the heading, by bringing the striped corner of the folded edge to meet the open edge.
5. Turn the outer point inward parallel with the open edge, forming a second triangle.
6. Repeat the triangular folding until entire length of the flag is folded.
7. When the flag is completely folded, only the triangular blue field should be visible.
